A MEMBERS ASSOCIATION, CREATED BY THE INDUSTRY FOR THE INDUSTRY

The NSSA is the peak not-for-profit, national industry body representing members in the security screen industry, including security screen manufacturers, installers and the suppliers of components for the industry.

The NSSA is a member driven association, backed by the major systems and product suppliers in the security screen industry.

Collectively, the NSSA Membership delivers more than 80% of the security screen products that are being sold in Australia.

We promote compliant and fit for purpose products and installations, as well as ethical trading practices to establish and maintain consumer confidence.

The NSSA monitors and advocates on behalf of our members and keeps them up to date with any changes in the Australian Standards, regulations, licensing requirements and activity in the security screen industry.

The NSSA provides services to members that improve their businesses and help them deliver quality products to their customers by:

- Informing members of technical developments and improvements in relation to installation and products.
- Informing members of changes to regulatory requirements in the industry.
- Lobbying and advocating on behalf of members to government bodies and key stakeholders in the industry in relation to compliance, regulatory, safety, manufacturing and accreditation issues.
- Operating a national third-party certified accreditation scheme to accredit members who meet Australian Standards and regulatory requirements.
- Providing members with networking and annual events, marketing initiatives and resources to enhance business opportunities.
- Undertaking any other activities in furtherance of the above.

The Charter of the NSSA is to advocate for our industry on behalf of our members, to set industry standards, drive greater collaboration between the industry and suppliers, and ultimately, achieve the overall betterment of the security screen industry through focus on compliance and best practice.
